
Smileys are a bit off.

Posted by tosaha - 2007/02/02 10:09

First of all I love BlastChat, I've had no glitches, bugs or complaints since I've started using it. Except for one.

My website is dark with a black background so that, although BlastChat does match the color scheme of the site, the smileys' have a jagged white border around them.

I originally had this problem with another section of my site but I found the smiley files and edited them. However I'm guessing that the smileys for BlastChat are retrieved remotely.

Is there any way for me to use my own smileys for BlastChat?

Thank you for your help.

Re:Smileys are a bit off.

Posted by Prutkar - 2007/02/22 19:40

It is on todo list, I do plan to offer emoticons replacement , so every webadmin can have their own. There is not time schedule so I can not tell you when will this be available.

Re:Smileys are a bit off.

Posted by FakeMoth - 2007/03/23 09:40

Just manifesting the support for this issue. The smileys are pretty ugly on a darker background and I'm sure you agree that it's not how a smiley is supposed to feel like. It pretty much ruins the look of the website. Check out my blast chat problem: http://www.liquidcore.ro/component/option,com_blastchatc/Itemid,63/

I am sure that a lot of people would use your chat component if you could just let them choose and use their own smileys or at least to offer somekind of a better artwork.

I know it stopped me using it for quite a while, but your stuff works great and I am not abandoning you ;)

Another request: do you think you can use smaller adds in the iframe?

Thanks,

www.liquidcore.ro

http://www.blastchat.com/components/com_joomlaboard/uploaded/images/smileyproblemchat.jpg

Post edited by: FakeMoth, at: 2007/03/23 09:40

Post edited by: FakeMoth, at: 2007/03/23 09:44

Re:Smileys are a bit off.

Posted by Prutkar - 2007/03/23 13:48

I wish I had more hands, I am right now finishing up assigning of admins and admin features like kick/ban which is more important to most admins here then anything else.

Yes, I do want to allow admins to define their own smilies, just did not have time to do so yet.

Ad size was recommended by webdesign professional, your chat window is a bit smaller. Yes, I do plan to ad option to not have ads in your chat at all, or have your graphics or even your own ads.

I just can't do it all at the same time, I am looking to hire extra hands to help but there are very limited funds available.

Re:Smileys are a bit off.

Posted by Royal Trude - 2008/02/08 09:34

edit - delete

=====

Re:Smileys are a bit off.

Posted by Royal Trude - 2008/02/08 09:35

found a suitable topic for this VERY important bug :ohmy:

the new smileys you've added...

:sicks: --- clicking the SICK smiley inserts :sicks: -> remove the xtra "s", will you...

Re:Smileys are a bit off.

Posted by Prutkar - 2008/02/08 10:13

Could you please review black background again? Did situation improve any?

(You can disable ads in iframe or set your own if you desire so, explore new configuration options, banners)

Re:Smileys are a bit off.

Posted by Prutkar - 2008/02/08 10:16

Royal Trude wrote:

:sicks: --- clicking the SICK smiley inserts :sicks: -> remove the xtra "s", will you...Fixed
