If you are talking about module, then it should integrate into your web template automatically.

If you are talking about component, check forum designed to component, there are tips how to set it up. (usually it is enough to simply change default blastchat template to your own.

This forum is for BlastChat client 2.2. MODULE. Module colors are based off of your own joomla template.

If your question is not about module, but client 2.2 itself (component), look into "BlastChat client 2.2" forum.

If there is no module installed, then you desire to change colors of component. This forum is dedicated for "BlastChat client 2.2. module", you need to read "BlastChat client 2.2" forum. There you will find sticky topic "CSS - how to change style?" that talks about colors and CSS.
